

Please do not weaken the no-call list. It has been wonderful not having people call during our dinner time, Sunday mornings, and usually other important family times. If they are allowed to call for 18 months, that seems like harrassment.